

IN BLACK & WHITE

ISSUE 36 – 7 AUGUST 2012

FROM THE ACTING HEADMASTER

We have had an eventful start to the term in a number of ways. The Quadrangular rugby tournament was a great success and culminated in two close finals games of rugby on Upper on Wednesday 1 August. There was plenty of entertaining play despite the cold and muddy conditions. I am grateful to the Director of Sport, Mr Rob Clarke, and his staff team, for their efforts in organising this fine event and to parents of 1st XV players for their support.

One of the highlights of the Quad tournament, which had nothing to do with rugby, involved a team of boys from our Humanitarian Committee working as waiters at the tournament dinner, under the able leadership of Zach Andrew. They undertook some training and then did a great job of serving the meal at the dinner. They are donating their wages for the night to the committee's charity, the Child Cancer Foundation. This was an excellent initiative and it supports College's desire for our boys to give service to the community, whenever feasible.

The mathematics department is basking in the reflected glory of some impressive results in competitions recently. Details of our successes in the University of Otago junior mathematics competition and the recent Year 11 competition appear on our website. I know that Mr Gildenhuys also has high hopes for our teams in the Cantamaths competition for Years 9 and 10, on Wednesday of this week.

The annual Southern Jam Big Band Festival in Blenheim took place over four days last week and I was able to join our band for three of their public performances over the weekend, including the festival concert on Saturday night (I missed the Super rugby final, which is just as well because I was planning to support the Sharks). This festival was a showcase for some extraordinary talent from fifteen South Island schools. The Big Band and Combo were very polished and a great credit to the school for the duration of the festival. Their concert in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday night will be well worth attending.

Parents might like to be aware of a change that we have decided to make to our house allocations for next year, though this will only affect a few of our new intake. With a declining number of new boarders for the second year in a row, we have given considerable thought to how best to allocate the reduced number to the four boarding houses. As a result, in order to meet parental requests for particular boarding placements, based largely on affiliation, and to keep a balance of student numbers across the houses, we have decided to allocate a full complement of Year 9 dayboys to Jacobs House, instead of boarders. These boys will benefit from the comfortable social and recreational facilities in Jacobs, and will participate fully in interhouse events. The placement of dayboys in boarding houses is not new and has allowed greater flexibility in a number of ways. We are confident that the arrangement will be a success and that it will be of mutual benefit to Jacobs House and the Year 9 dayboys who join it.

Finally, I would like to indulge in an anecdote about College sport. At the start of the winter season I was asked to shift from my rugby coaching role to being the manager of the 15A football side. My knowledge of football was painfully limited but I learned a great deal in a short time by watching the team coach, Richard Bell (who is one of our parents). Last Saturday, on the wonderful all-weather surface of the ASB Football Park, the young College side beat CBHS 2-0, after having lost their two previous encounters against the same side. It was a great display of how a team can improve, with determination, self-belief and by applying all that they had learned at training during the season. They have faith in their coach, but a little less faith in my ability to pick the off-side from the sideline.

Rob Donaldson, Acting Headmaster

BRAIN BEE

Vincent Curd (Year 11 Julius) was named South Island runner-up in 2012 Australian and New Zealand Brain Bee Challenge. Held at the Otago Museum during the recent holiday break, the Brain Bee is a competition designed to motivate young people to learn about the brain – and has been created to inspire students to pursue careers in neuroscience research.

This neuroscience competition is a test of knowledge concerning intelligence, memory, emotions, sensations, movement, stress, aging, sleep, Alzheimer's disease and stroke. The entrants were also given the opportunity to meet neuroscientists and to tour the university's laboratories.

KARTSPORT NATIONAL CHAMPS

William Reith and Brock Timperley represented Christ's College at the Kartsport New Zealand National Schools' Championships during the recent school holidays. The event, held in Wellington was also the 10th anniversary for Kartsport New Zealand and saw extremely fierce and competitive racing of a very high standard.

Brock competed in the Max Light class (involving competitors 15 and over) and finished in a very respectable 11th place overall. William, competed in the Junior class, which had the biggest field of competitors, and finished in 16th place overall.

THIMUN SELECTION

Austin O'Brien has been selected to attend The Hague International Model United Nations in January 2013. As part of his application, Austin was observed for his debating and negotiation skills at the recent NZMUN event in Wellington, as well as being interviewed by selectors. His selection, and that of 21 other students, was announced at the conclusion of the NZMUN conference.

SKIING RESULTS

Several of our boys competed in the New Zealand National Youth Series ski race, held at Coronet Peak, Queenstown last weekend. The event involved two giant slalom races and one slalom, each completed twice for a combination time.

Nicholas Gemmell of School House won both of the Giant Slalom races, with Ben Loeffen-Gallagher 4th, James O'Donoghue 5th and Jonathon Gemmell in 7th place.

Ben finished 2nd in the slalom, with the others further back after experiencing falls in their first runs.

CURRICULUM NOTES

Our annual course choice evening has rolled around again. Making subject and course choices can seem like an impossible task. The purpose of the evening is to provide advice and guidance for boys and parents on the courses that are most likely to match a boy's future plans. If your son has a clear idea of his career path, then subject choices come easily. University and polytech courses usually give clear statements about prerequisites.

However, it is not unusual for boys to have little idea of what they intend to do, in which case I advise that they should keep their choices as broad as possible. If you face that situation, here are some useful guidelines for boys to follow:

- If you think you might want to study a language in the future, DON'T drop that language now because languages are difficult to pick up again. You are better advised to keep the language for now, even if you are unsure
- Try to keep both a social and a physical science in your subject mix
- If you are going into Year 13 in 2013, and you are still unsure of what you want to do, keep English and Mathematics
- Make sure there is a subject in the mix that excites you
- Make an appointment with Mr Sellars, Careers Master

The course choice evening will be held on Tuesday 7 August between 7pm and 9pm in the Assembly Hall and if your son is in Years 9 to 12 I would thoroughly recommend that you come along with him. Mr Chris Sellars (Careers Master) and I will be there, with representatives of most of our subject departments, to offer information and advice. We also expect to have representatives from the University of Canterbury, Lincoln University, and the CPIT at the evening to offer additional course and careers information and advice.

Boys will all be given a web address and individual log-in in order to enter their preferred subject choices online. These are due in by Wednesday August 15.

Mr R Sutton, Senior Master Curriculum

SCHOLARSHIP FOR PIANIST

Euwin Tan has been awarded the George Russell Memorial Scholarship, which includes a $500 cash prize, at a recent piano competition held during the school holidays. Organised by the Christchurch Competition Society and held at Rangi Ruru, Euwin was given the award as the 'most promising instrumentalist under 18 years'. The society holds such competitions to "promote the arts amongst young people providing a public platform to give them an opportunity to perform and compete".

He is pictured here with the adjudicator, Mr Bryan Sayer and instrumental convener, Mrs Virginia Rennie. The prize was sponsored by The Savage Club and Euwin has been invited to perform at the club as a guest artist in October.

MATHS SUCCESS

Christopher Brown, Jeremy Penrose and Ji Woo Kim

Our mathematics department is delighted with the performance of College students in recent national and regional competitions. Junior boys performed extremely well in the 2012 University of Otago Junior Mathematics competition, with a College boy finishing in the top three of each category. There are around 8000 students from 200 schools who take part in this contest each year. "To finish in the top 3 in New Zealand is a fantastic achievement", says Head of Mathematics Mr Dirk Gildenhuys.

Results

Year 9 category:

Christopher Brown 1st place

Year 10 category:

Ji Woo Kim 3rd place

Year 11 category:

Jeremy Penrose 2nd place

Also winning a prize for finishing in the top 30 in the country is Year 9 student Michael Williams.

To add to this success for the boys and the department, last Wednesday night two Year 11 teams from College took part in the Canterbury Mathematics Association Problem Solving competition, finishing in first and second place from the 13 secondary schools entered. There was just one point between the two teams.

The mathematicians involved at this event were:

Christ's College A (1st place)

Jeremy Penrose
William Briscoe
William Warren
Etienne Wain

Christ's College B (2nd place)

Harry Beadel
Charles Carey
William Doak
Boris Marinov

SOUTHERN JAM YOUTH JAZZ FESTIVAL 2012

On Tuesday 31 July, 15 members of the Christ's College Big Band, with Mrs Claire Oliver, Mr Nick Coxon and Ms Catherine Bell, travelled to Blenheim for the Southern Jam Jazz Youth Festival 2012. The trip up was in the wet, but at least we missed the rock falls that hit the coast road the next day. This was their fifth visit to the festival, and certainly the wettest!

During the event participating bands play in bars, clubs, cafes and other public venues. There is also a competitive element in which bands are given up to 30 minutes to present a programme, this year judged by Owen Clark and musicians from the Royal New Zealand Air Force.

On Thursday, our bands performed their programmes and were then given a masterclass, during which the judges did some talent-spotting for potential players for a nineteen-piece All Stars Band. The All Stars band, once selected, rehearsed on the Saturday afternoon in readiness to perform in the final Gala Concert. From Christ's College, Quinn Angus (trumpet) and Hamish Wallace (tenor saxophone) were chosen.

Results were announced at the prize giving on Saturday, with the following awards to Christ's College:

Silver - Big Band

Silver - Jazz Combo

I would like to thank and congratulate Claire Oliver for all her hard work with the boys and to Catherine Bell for her support during the week. Many of us felt that highlights of the week were late Saturday night performances by four bands from St Andrew's College, Papanui, Linwood and Christ's College, each of which was electrifying. The atmosphere was superb, noisy and the performers were enthusiastically supported. Also my thanks to Rob Donaldson and Dr Shelley Louw and a number of parents for their support during the week.

QUADRANGULAR TOURNAMENT WRAP UP

86th Quadrangular Rugby Tournament

Monday produced two very one sided matches in wet and muddy conditions. In a repeat of the previous few years, both Nelson College and Wellington College prevailed to move into the major final on Wednesday.

On Monday evening, all players and team management gathered for the Tournament Dinner. Held in the Christ's College Dining Hall, the guests heard from Katrina Darry, All Black Nutritionist, about her experiences with the winning World Cup team last year and players received some take home messages about their own nutrition and sporting performance.

The second playing day of Quad produced not only nicer weather, but two very close encounters where both matches came down to a last minute kick at goal to determine the result. In the first match, the minor final was contested between Christ's College and Wanganui Collegiate. Despite having a number of chances Christ's were unable to convert them and led narrowly for the majority of the match, until Wanganui scored its third try to tie the match at 15-all. The game was decided on fulltime when Damian McKenzie kicked a penalty from wide out to give Christ's an 18-15 victory.

In the major final, Nelson College opened the scoring and led 10-nil, before Wellington responded decisively with four quick tries in order to lead 26-3 at the break. In a remarkable turn around, Nelson College played an outstanding half of rugby which included tries to each winger and a 50 metre runaway to their openside flanker Steven Soper. Nelson led by 5 points with minutes remaining. Wellington were not going to be denied and scored a late try wide out but failed to convert. Final score 31-all.

A thrilling end to another very good Quadrangular tournament. Next year, 2013, Nelson College will host the 87th.

Mr RA Clarke, Director of Sport

CONGRATULATIONS KIP

Seven 1st XI hockey players represented Canterbury during the first week of the holidays at national tournaments.

Kip Mouldey was captain of the under-18A team who won the National title, and was one of three Canterbury players selected for the Tiger Turf New Zealand under-18 training squad. He is the first College player for 18 years to be selected for a NZ under-18 squad.

Will Hurst, Dominic Newman, Luke Cracroft-Wilson, Callum Slaven, James Kean and Sam Feutz were members of the under-18 B Canterbury team who finished runners up in their national tournament. Jack Woodley was unable to play due to injury.

Mr GJ Worner, 1st XI Manager

SAM BOSWORTH

All our best wishes to Sam Bosworth who is now in Plovdiv, Bulgaria preparing for the World Junior Rowing Championship regatta from 15-18 August. Sam is coxswain for the New Zealand junior men's coxed four. We are certainly hoping that the regatta will require a repeat of this photo from the Maadi Cup regatta of 2012.

BOARDING PROGRAMME

The Boarding Programme has again been well supported over the first two weekends of this term. While conditions have not been perfect, with the snow unfortunately starting to melt, over 50 boys have been to Mt Hutt so far. The ten pin bowling and movies offered over the past two Saturdays have also been popular.

The Year 12 boarders have just completed a successful weekend leadership programme run by a company called Full On. The emphasis was on 'Making it Happen'.

On Friday night the boys were introduced to the programme with discussion centering around the Power of Thought and State of Mind. The boys were given the challenge of breaking a 2cm piece of wood, on which they had written a goal they wished to achieve, with their bare hand. By the end of the evening they all had successfully completed the challenge.

Sunday started with a 1km sprint around Upper. The rule was that they sprinted until they could no more, then stopped for a break, then sprinted again. For some, Sunday morning's cooked breakfast was not sitting too well in their stomach by the end of the challenge!

The boys then travelled to Washpen Falls near Terrace Downs. The weather was perfect and the boys completed two more challenges; a high ropes course and an abseil. Again it was a case of the boys being put out of their comfort zone and again they were successful.

I was impressed with ALL of the boys and their attitude toward the weekend. They were positive and I believe have gained some worthwhile lessons from what they achieved.

Their next challenge is to carry those lessons back into their everyday lives.

Thanks to Mr Martin Hayes for his coordination of the weekend and to Mr Arthur Wood and Mr Matt Cortesi for their support at Washpen Falls.

THEATRESPORTS

The College Senior Theatresports team of Austin O'Brien, Aengus Port, Jared Wadsworth, Bramley MacLean and Tobin Smith performed with aplomb on Sunday afternoon.

It is a developing team with only two members having performed in the interschool competition before, but they emerged in second place behind a very experienced Cashmere High School team, having created the top scene of the evening.

Tobin and Aengus opened, drawing Yes and Experts in the blind round. They played an entertaining scene on the subject of Google, gaining an even 3 marks for entertainment and technical expertise. It proved a solid start to their campaign. Cashmere emerged from this round as the team to beat with their highly physical Word at a Time.

The choice of Actor's Nightmare in the second round had me nervous. It is a difficult game to play – relying on one actor taking all his lines from a randomly chosen page of a play script. Jared Wadsworth took the lead in a humorous scene set in a optician's shop. Aengus and Bramley reacted with assurance to the unpredictable lines thrown at them by Jared, culminating in a believable and amusing ending.

The highlight of the evening was the College team's third round. With four minutes allowed for the scene, the team chose a Typewriter scenario. Tobin set himself up as the novelist writing his magnum opus. An audience member provided the title Penelope's Great Day and Austin took the stage as Penelope, vying with Jared for the love of Bramley. A dance off, with a spectacular double axel from Austin resulted in the award of a bonus point and the evening's top score of nine and a half out of ten.

This was not quite enough to oust Cashmere from the well-deserved winner's position but our team performed very well and Tobin and Bramley show great promise for College Theatresports in the future.

Theatresports is a demanding sport. It involves acting ability, energy, quick thinking and creativity. Actors are kept on their toes by taking the subjects of their scenes from the audience. The competition is not for the fainthearted. I congratulate Austin, Aengus, Jared, Bramley and Tobin for their great contribution to Theatresports 2012.

Ms RM Peers, MIC TheatreSports

LANGUAGES WEEK

Ko tou reo, ko toku reo, te tuakiri tangata – your voice and my voice are expressions of identity.

Language is being celebrated at Christ's College this week, beginning on Monday morning with a special Chapel service. The service, which included a sermon by Head of Modern Languages Mrs Susan Harding, as well as prayers in Latin and hymns in Te Reo, involved the reading of prayers by boys who are fluent in French, Korean, Bulgarian, Cantonese, Spanish, Thai and Farsi. As part of the sermon Mrs Harding reminded the boys of the respect offered to another person when attempts are made to understand and use their language. "A greeting, a please or thank you in someone else's language connects you in a subtle way with that person." Mrs Harding told them this is a valuable point to remember if they embark on overseas travel, as many will do in the near future. "If you explore the world linguistically as well as geographically, you will find many unexpected treasures because travel is not so much about the place, its more about the people you connect with there."

Today at lunchtime the popular interhouse waiters' race took place. The course was set around Upper and required competitors to transfer marbles using chopsticks at one station, with the goal of arriving at the finish line with the most water left in their glass in the quickest possible time. The winning House was Harper, with Corfe second and School third.

This coming Friday a food fair will take place in Upham Quad at lunchtime with wurst sausage, snails, German chocolate cakes, French pastries and sushi available for purchase.

Christ's College are celebrating ahead of the official national language week because of mid-year examinations.
